Rube Gives Only Three Hits, Two of Them Scratchy, in Debut.

GIANTS TRIUMPH BY 7-2

Watson Is Driven Out of the Box for Second Day in Succession.

There were just two saving grace Juggernaut progress over a prostrate foe at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon-the lustrous pitching of Rube nton in his season's debut and the despatch with which the contest was reeled off. It took only one hour and twenty-five minutes for the left hander to hold the Braves to three hits and send the affair into the standing of the clubs.

That the Giants won again-this time by 7 to 2-no doubt already has been here, and left the New Yorks in poseession of all six contests in which they have met Fred Mitchell's revamped rew so far this spring.

Three New York hits counted for two in the opening round. Burns and a single through Barbare and roft lined a hit into left. Frisch leed. Young whanged one through short and both runners came home.

A very quiet second inning, and then Watson started the Glants on their scoragain. He walked Burns to open third. Bancroft bunted down the play for Burns at second. Ford got himself two errors in quick succession. Firt he muffed the throw and then he made a wild heave to third, with the result that Burns scored and Bannie got to second. Frisch again sacrificed. Young fouled to O'Neill, but Kelly smashed a terrific liner to centre and scored Bancroft.

scored Bancroft.

There were three runs for the Glants in the sixth. Young organized the rout of Watson with a single to centre. The Boston hurler wanted none of Kelly's game and gave him a pass. Walker lifted a weak pop to Watson and Rapp doubled to right, scoring Young and putting Kelly only one station from home.

doubled to right, seoring Young and putiting Kelly only one station from home.

Rupp's ringing hit was the Angelus for Watson, and he knocked off for the day. Snyder greeted Oeschger with a single through short, and Kelly said "Heilo" to O'Neill. Benton walked, filling the bases, and Burns lined to Oeschger. Bancroft was hit on the shins with a pitched ball, forcing Rapp home.

The fans were treated to a momentous sight in the eighth, when the ponderous Snyder hot only beat out a bunt to Bockel, but stole third after Benton had failed in an attempt to imitate Snyder in the bunting game. Three big laughs in a row. The score:

CHICAGO, May 3 .- Arnold "Chick" Gandil, former first baseman of the White Sox, who was indicted in connection with the baseball scandal, appeared before Chief Justice Charles A. Piercy Pitches Well Against Red Sox, Schang Hits Hard and Ruth Fizzles.

By WILLIAM B. HANNA.

George Kelly and George Ruth have armies of admirers who follow them around just to see them swing a rounded piece of wood against a horsehide covered sphere. When either of them wallops the bail on the nose the shock shakes the entire land.

The two big clouters have made thirteen home runs in twenty days. That's better than a home run every other day. Kelly started the circuit walloping on April 13. On April 16, April 21, April 22 and May 2 both men hit for four bases. On April 26 Ruth gave a lone performance, and on April 27 and April 25 Ruth gave a lone performance, and on April 27 and April 30 Kelly did the same.

The fans are taking as much interest just now in the race between these two hitters as they are in the standing of the clubs. Just think what crowds these two opposing each other in a world's series would draw! The owners of the Glants and Yankees hate to thirk about it. It gives them such a headache.

All were robust knocks and Pennock was lucky. Piercy gave a pass to Menoskey in the Boston first, but the noble Mr. Pratt hit into a double play.

The Red Hose peppered Piercy for three singles in a row in the second, with two out, fortunately. Peck's good stop of the third one shut off a run, for Pennock removed the danger by fouling high to Baker.

Scoring by Yankees.

Having seen the foe make some hits, the Yankees made some in the third. An infield hit by Ward, a double by Schang and a single by Plercy sent in a run before any outs were recorded. A walk by Roth filled the nooks. Peck filed to Collins, scoring Schang and bringing up Ruth. The home run monarch struck out on a fast bail. Pipp forced Roth via the noble Pratt, to that the attack collapsed considerably after a vigorous start. It broke in the middle when Ruth whiffed.

Notes of the Players.

A local paper charges Mays with being peeved in yesterday's game and not passing Hendryx in the ninth inning when instructed by Huggins to do eo. The charge is ridiculous, as is a good deal of other unfair out of town stuff written about the Yanks. The way Mays pitched to Hendryx was with the full "O. K." of the manager.

Another Boston criticism, and one much more to the point, is that less the star business and more attention team play probably would make t Yankees play better ball.

Mile. Lenglen No Match For Wimbledon Player

So Says R. Lycett, One of World's Best Doubles.

The question raised as to the probable desult of a lawn tennis match between Mile. Lenglen, the woman world champion, and a leading man player was eagerly discussed recently at Queens Club, London, where the covered courts championship is in progress.

Mile. Lenglen, who is 22, is by general consent far superior to any other woman player at the moment. Her tactics are also similar to those of the best men players—hard hitting and brilliant volleying.

Mr. R. Lycett, one of the best doubles.

Mr. R. Lycett, one of the best doubles players in the world, told a Dolly Mail reporter that in his opinion Mile. Lenglen, brilliant as she is, would stand no chance against a first class man. "I have actually heard it suggested," he said, "that Mile Lengiem would be able to beat Mr. W. T. Tilden, the world champion. With all due regard to chivalry, I think this is frankly absurd. "I have seen her play, and I consider that a first class man player, one of the leading figures at Wimbledon or other big matches, could allow her a handicap of 15 and then stand a good chance of winning."
